FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
SEPTEMBER 11, 2018

Eli Richey charged with violating no contact order against Portland Police Bureau Chief Danielle Outlaw

Today, the Multnomah County District Attorney's Office announced 38-year-old Eli Richey turned himself into the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office on a warrant that charges him with three counts of violating a court's stalking protective order, a Class A misdemeanor.

The warrant was issued on September 7, 2018 and Richey was booked into the Multnomah County Detention Center shortly before 2 a.m. on September 11, 2018.

According to an arrest warrant affidavit, on December 22, 2018, the Court entered a permanent Final Stalking Protective Order and Judgement restraining the defendant from all forms of contact with Portland Police Bureau Chief Danielle Outlaw, including coming into the visual or physical presence of her, speaking with her by any means, or filming or posting videos of her.

The affidavit, which was filed under case number 18CR57500, states on August 26, 2018, Chief Outlaw was attending a public event outside Portland City Hall and took a group photo with three other people.

While standing next to the others, she heard a familiar voice say, "you know I gotta ensure police accountability," according to the affidavit.

Chief Outlaw then recognized that Richey was standing "very close to her and reported that the contact made her feel fearful and angry," the affidavit states. Chief Outlaw noticed Richey appeared to be filming the interaction because he had some type of recording device in his hand.

The affidavit states that Portland Police were able to obtain a copy of the video that shows Richey directed his camera at Chief Outlaw and recorded her.

Richey appeared before Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge Christopher J. Marshall on September 11, 2018 at the Multnomah County Justice Center.

A not guilty plea was entered on Richey's behalf. His next court date is set for October 19, 2018 at 9 a.m.

At the hearing on Tuesday, Judge Marshall ordered Richey be released to Multnomah County's Pretrial Services Program, if accepted. Bail is set at $7,500.

A charging instrument is only an accusation of a crime, and the defendant is presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty.
